SUNDAY SCHOOL COHORT CLASS OPTIONS – WINTER 2025-2026

The Sunday School Cohort will begin the new quarter with a gathering in the fellowship hall at 9:45 a.m., where we will introduce the upcoming classes and teachers over coffee and donuts. I hope to see you that morning; however, if you are unable to attend, the following provides an overview of the options available for the next twelve-week rotation of courses. The two new class offerings are:

THE GOLDEN AGE with Jay Crumpler

Our world longs for lasting peace—an end to wars, division, and conflict. Throughout history, rulers and nations have pursued that peace, yet their efforts have fallen short. Scripture, however, points to a future era in which true peace will finally be realized: the Millennium, a period described as a thousand-year reign marked by righteousness and stability. The biblical writings speak extensively about this coming age, though it remains one of the least understood topics among many Christians. I invite you to join me as we examine what the Scriptures reveal about this promised Golden Age and consider its significance for the people of God.

SO, WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE with David Howell

This study, drawing significantly from Fritz Ridenour's work, offers a comparative examination of biblical Christianity alongside major world religions, faith systems, and worldviews. Each session will focus on a particular religious tradition, reviewing its historical founder and approximate date of origin, geographical development, estimated number of adherents, and primary sacred texts. We will also survey that tradition's perspectives on God, Jesus, humanity, sin, salvation, and the afterlife. Distinctive practices, internal divisions or sects, and other relevant doctrinal or cultural features will be addressed to provide a comprehensive overview. I look forward to having you join us as we explore how the core convictions of the Christian faith compare with those of the world's major religions.

If you've been waiting for the perfect moment to join a Sunday school class, December 7th is an ideal time to begin. We are excited to launch a new quarter with a fresh set of classes designed to encourage growth, community, and deeper understanding. If you have any questions about these classes or about how our Sunday School Cohort operates, please feel free to contact Mike Brazier.
